Rev. Ralph E. Johnson, evangelist, conducted a revival at the Pahokee Methodist church, highlighting the program by the Pahokee rotary club yesterday. Johnson, about a year ago when he was here conducting a revival, Rev. John B. Baker, pastor of the club, was here.

Johnson's sermon was even warmer and more enthusiastic applause than was given a year ago.

Playing his organ accompaniment to the hymns, Johnson sang "Mandalay" and "We'll Meet Again Some Sunny Day." Then in a lighter vein he sang a parody on "Trees" which brought a hasty round of applause from his listeners.

Versatile as he is, it was no trouble for the visiting evangelist to turn immediately from the singing of the TNH laugh-praising parody to a discussion of the "hazards of life." "John," which brought audience silence over the crowd as he painted a glowing picture of FRIENDSHIP and all that it means. Appropriate background music for the reading was furnished by Rev. C. A. Moberg, Rotary club pianist.

Timing his remarks to correspond with the general time, Rev. Johnson concluded his short talk on happiness and how it can be realized.

Visitors at the meeting were: Bob Creech, Jimmy Ball, E. E. Hamilton and Innai Weeks, Belle Glade Rotarians; W. E. Bruns, West Palm Beach Rotarian and W. W. Hurd of Toronto, Canada, a guest of E. L. Pope.

A Word Now And Then About Those Who Serve And Offer To Serve You In Public Office

There's an election coming up on May 2. Candidates for various offices are entering the field. Ere the passing of many more days office-seekers should be out in full force looking for support in the forthcoming balloting.

Certain candidates—among them those for state representative—have until February 1 to qualify. Others have until March 17.

L. A. Dick LeFils, Belle Glade garage operator, has filed his papers for state representative. He announced his candidacy several weeks ago and has been contacting friends in the Lake region in an effort to further his chance of serving in the legislative halls of Tallahassee. His opposition will be Pahokee garage operator and cattle rancher. Mr. Elliott qualified yesterday. His formal announcement will be forthcoming soon.

Attorney Herbert D. Beck, three time representative in Group two, will not seek that office again. He will be a candidate for Judge of the criminal court. R. C. Alley, incumbent, may seek election to the job he now holds. Attorney E. M. Boyd of West Palm Beach is already a candidate for office.

In Group 1 for state representative there is one announced candidate—Tom Campbell, former tax collector of West Palm County. Attorney John E. Bellinger, incumbent, hasn't announced his intentions as yet in regard to run-

Bean Crop Wiped Out By Frost On Saturday Morning

By Paul Hardin

The Lake Okeechobee Region bean crop was wiped out Saturday morning when Jack Frost took a toll of at least 95 per cent of that tender vegetable. Other crops in the area were severely damaged by the cold which terminated several weeks of uneventful weather.

During the forecast of last week the seedmen were warned by word of mouth that frost was to be expected on Saturday morning, but had hoped on Friday that the worst was behind them. But not so, for on Saturday morning came the heaviest frost of the entire season—wiping out all ages of beans.

Farmers in the area were busy replanting and cultivating young crops which were necessitated by earlier frost when Saturday morning's frost was to be expected.

On Wednesday of last week OPAMAN Geoffrey Baker and appeared at a meeting held at Pahokee State Farmers Market and announced ceiling prices on green beans and other vegetables to take effect on January 31. Had been present in the Glades 72 hours later he could have seen first hand what "hazards" of marketing can bring when they pointed out to him that "hazards" had to be faced in growing tender vegetables during the winter months in Florida.

However growers of this area face adversity with a smile and this week they have been busy replanting in an effort to recover their season's losses on a spring crop. It will be possible to market the crop in time to meet the demand of the market.

The following relatives were here for the funeral: the husband, F. R. Harrison; Mrs. G. S. Cox, Mrs. Irene Herring, Winona Ruth Cox and Betty Cox, sister of Conway, S. C.; Mrs. B. C. Funeral Services Mrs. Sara Harrison

Funeral services for Mrs. Sara Harrison, 31, of Cocoa were held at the Pahokee Methodist Church at 2 p. m. Tuesday, Jan. 25 with Rev. A. Ferguson, pastor of the church.

Mrs. Harrison, wife of the former Pahokee police chief, F. R. "Pete" Baker, died Saturday night of injuries suffered in an automobile accident at Orlando on Friday. She was a resident here for several years, coming to the Pahokee area and keeping the huge pre-cooling plant busy.

Many improvements have been made at the plant during the past few months to facilitate the handling of the celery crop. Manager Elliott stated this week that "things are moving along nicely which can be expected to continue when the deal is satisfactory."

Prices on celery have been unusually good so far this season. Northern markets are demanding the Glades celery available, with a great number of cars being shipped into Canada. Prices were ranging around the $1750 mark for 448 crates in a car.

The following relatives were here for the funeral: the husband, F. R. Harrison; Mrs. Irene Herring, Winona Ruth Cox and Betty Cox, sister of Conway, S. C.; Mrs. B. C. Glades Celery In Demand On Markets Throughout North Celery is moving from the Lake Region at a faster clip than at any time since the crop was introduced to the market. Up until last night more than 125,000 crates had been shipped to northern markets from the fall crop.

The Everglades Growers Cooperative, located at the Pahokee State Farmers Market, is a busy place these days and nights. A full crew of workmen stays on the job for late night pre-cooling and packing and preparing it for shipment. Operations at the plant are under the direction of Jess Elliott, manager of the concern: Homer Clause, sales manager; E. C. Houck, plant engineer.

Sam Chastain, Thaddeus Knight, Walter Hull and Lemire Stuckey are in charge of sawing and cutting the stalks in the Pahokee area and their cuttings keep the huge pre-cooling plant busy.

Paper Collection By The Boy Scouts Needs Your Help

The Pahokee Boy Scout Troop No. 23, rapidly becoming a factor in the life of the community. Some twenty are interested and active, and every Thursday night at eight, in their new meeting room, they go to the Pahokee Fire Department building. Frank Bozelle, deeply interested in this program, is arranging for the addition of much needed equipment.

The boys, under the direction of their Scoutmaster Rev. C. A. McDonald, will be engaged in THE PAPER, COLOR, CLOTHING, CANVAS, and PAPER DRIVE for the war, and have on hand about four thousand pounds or fifteen tons of their items for the drive.

It is respectfully requested that all who have not done so, that all magazines, newspapers, and cardboard (flattened) be handed separately. If this is done, the Scouts will be able to cover the community ONCE A WEEK, but if the boys are required to do this, the effort will be slowed fifty percent.

It is IMPERATIVE, yes, CRITICAL, SATURDAYS are to be held, a special meeting for young people; eight o'clock each evening excepting a year ago which met with such success that he was unanimously invited to return this year. His versatility and ability is still the marvel of his profession for not only is he a superb musician, but also a superb music teacher.

Since his visit here last year, he has assured the services of Miss Roberts Hall who is a professional evangelistic pianist and one of the best in the business. The outstanding feature of the revival is the unusual interest the young people are showing for on this date more than 500 young people have been in attendance. The same service is being conducted for the young people by the same regular evening service.

The meeting is being conducted by Rev. Ralph E. Johnson of Chattanooga and it will be remembered that the evangelist held a revival in this same church only a year ago which met with such success that he was cordially invited.

The services are held as follows: three thirty for the boys and the girls; seven fifteen daily, a special meeting for young people; eight o'clock each evening excepting a year ago which met with such success that he was cordially invited.

Conducting Pahokee Revival

At Denton's Store

Three important meetings took place last week at the offices of the Resources Development Board—the second meeting of the Roads and Highways Board, and the initial gathering of the Agricultural group.

The members of the Roads Committee including Thurmond Knight of Pahokee submitted reports and maps showing the roads needed in their respective communities to gather together with an evaluation of importance to the order in which they were to be built.

The State Road Department is to be presented at its next meeting, for its proposed cooperation in the construction of the roads.

State Road No. 143, that all important Glades roads connecting Belle Glade and Pahokee, were a great deal of work to the people of the area made by the Range Line Road, which was a lot of work to Pahokee, and the amount raised.

Following close of the regular meeting yesterday individual Rotarians of Pahokee donated $242 to the National Foundation for carrying on the fight against diphtheria and pneumonia.

THE AMERICAN VIEWPOINT

A supercilious German officer was questioning two United Nations prisoners.

"I see you are a subject of the British Empire," he spoke to the Englishman.

"Yes, and proud of it," the Briton replied.

"And you," the German turned to the other prisoner, "appear to be a subject of the United States of America."

"Subject of the United States, baloney!" said the American. "I own part of it." — Stuart News.

SHOESHINE $5

Story of inflation in China is told in the pricy bootblacks charge. Refugees fleeing from coastal cities following the fall of Nanking in 1937 introduced the professional service to the Chinese. At Hankow they charged five cents a shine then; today they get Chinese $5 (35 cents). On a good day, one 15-year-old reports, it's possible to take in a hundred Chinese dollars. — Wall Street Journal.

TREASURE TROVE

One day a friend burst in upon John Hays Hammond, the well-known mining engineer with the news that he had discovered oil flowing from a spring on his property. He brought along a sample in a bottle he had hastily picked up around the house.

The specimen was dispatched to an expert chemist, and the excited discoverer waited with bated breath for the report.

Hammond opened the message and read:

"Find no trace of oil. Your friend has struck paragon." — Collier County News

GETTING ACQUAINTED

An ocean liner, westward bound for New York, was overtaken by sudden disaster, and in a matter of minutes, all that was left on the surface of the sea were two Englishmen.

Not having met formally, they swam about for hours in stony silence. The sun began to sink, darkness crept over the waters. Finally, in desperation, one swam toward the other.

"I say, old fellow," he shouted, embarrassed but determined, "I say, dash it all, which way is London?" — Coronet.

MISQUOTED

The sergeant asked for a machine gun and camel and stated that he'd get Rommel if he had to go all over Africa. Days later a messenger came from him, informing him immediately: Rommel captured.

His arrival was eagerly awaited. Finally the sergeant staggered in on foot. "Where's Rommel?" asked his officer. "Hell," he said, "I didn't wire, 'Rommel captured.' I said, 'Camel ruptured.' — Flexigun.

LIVING PROOF

One of the most interesting performances of the greatest American classic, "Rip Van Winkle," took place in the village of Thessaloniki itself.

Before the performance, Joseph Jefferson, the incomparable portrayer of Rip, was dining at his hotel, when he heard a negro left Thessaloniki a few hours before the Nazi invaders reached there.

He and his wife were among the last of the college staff to leave and in their escape they followed the same road taken by the Apostle Paul when he was driven out of Thessaloniki, 1,900 years ago. They had to cross the long Vardar bridge just two hours after they crossed it and within 24 hours, their home was occupied by German officers.

Anatolia College was founded in Turkey but forced from that country by war in 1921. It was established in Greece where it now has a large school with more than 400 boys and girls of five faiths and eight nationalities.

Dr. Riggs was born in Merrifield, Turkey, of a missionary family. He first went to the Near East under the American Board in 1904 and during his career has served as president of Ephrath College, Chief Welfare Director of the Near East Relief in Syria and as a member of the Executive of the American Board at its London headquarters. He became President of Antioch College in 1933.

waiter giving a graphic and detailed account of the legend of the Catskill mountains to one of the guests.

"Yes, sah," marveled the waiter, "Rip went up into the mountains, slept for 20 years, and when he came back, hya in every town, his own folks didn't know him."

"You don't believe the story true, do you?" asked the darkie. "Ob course it is. Why?" pointing to Jefferson "dat's de man." — Christian Science Monitor.

UNNECESSARY EXCITEMENT

The natural tendency of all mothers to dose their sons with various medicines, and the natural reluctance of various sons to be dosed, formed the basis of an intriguing story in the newspapers yesterday in which a doting mother had her soldier son sent home to take care of his mother, the train to come to town. Then she discovered that she had given him poison instead of medicine, probably keeping the rat poison in the medicine cabinet.

But when the doctors and ambulances succeeded in stopping the train, the soldier merely shrugged his shoulders and said, "Mother always gave me a dose of medicine when I'm going away. But I always pour it down the sink when she isn't looking." — Sanford Herald.

COFFEE QUALITY

Coffee quality could be in for a sharp slump. Big supplier Brazil is anxious to dispose of its five million bags of leftover beverage beans before selling the new crop. Roasters here grumble that the old coffee is of a markedly inferior quality compared with the new and excellent new harvest.

A shortage of railroad labor continues to hamper Brazil's coffee growers. Migration to the cities has reached a point where some owners have shut down for the duration. — Wall Street Journal.

NO DRIFTERS WANTED

"Vacancy" signs in the windows of Washington rooming houses are so rare that, if you live there, you can investigate them all; the chance that the accommodations offered will be better than what you have.

A Washington young lady we've been told about did just this the other day—investigated a room offered for rent and took it on the spot. She was about to hand over her first week's rent, when the proprietress said, "Of course you're in the government, aren't you?"

She said no; she was employed in private industry. The landlady shook her head and said, "We can't take you in, then. We cater only to people with permanent positions." — The New Yorker.

NEW COLD CURE

Newest contribution toward a common cold cure comes from England. The British discoverers of penicillin now say that their new mold-made drug, patulin, will kill off the cold virus. The catch is that it's too toxic to take internally. A nasal spray could halt a bad cold. An analysis shows that patulin can be made synthetically with great ease; it may prove the opening to a broad new field of synthetic drugs. — Wall Street Journal.

ORPHAN

A very old man with white hair and a beard down to here boarded a Lexington evening express and clumped down the aisle like a ghost. Before each passenger he thrust a cigar box, calling, "Money." They shelled out without looking at the box. On it, neatly lettered in blue, was the legend: "Please Help Me, I am an Orphan." — New York PM.

Greece, only a few miles from the Nazi invaders, reached there.

Jimmy McPherson left Saturday to report for training in the armed forces at Camp Blanding.

He and his wife were among the last of the college staff to leave and in their escape they followed the same road taken by the Apostle Paul when he was driven out of Thessaloniki, 1,900 years ago.

They shelled out without looking at the box. On it, neatly lettered in blue, was the legend: "Please Help Me, I am an Orphan." — New York PM.

Operating under the theme, "One World in Christ," the Florida Chain of Missionary Assemblies again will take its place in the community's Church life.

Meetings will be held in various sections of the State.

Close-hand information of war fronts will be offered by the Rev. Ernest W. Bridges, who, with his wife, left Thessaloniki, Greece, only a few hours ahead of the Nazi invaders.

Their home, they learned, was occupied by German officers.

Anatolia College was founded in Turkey but forced from that country by war in 1921.

It was established in Greece where it now has a large school with more than 400 boys and girls of five faiths and eight nationalities.

Dr. Riggs was born in Merrifield, Turkey, of a missionary family.

He first went to the Near East under the American Board in 1904 and during his career has served as president of Ephrath College, Chief Welfare Director of the Near East Relief in Syria and as a member of the Executive of the American Board at its London headquarters.

He became President of Antioch College in 1933.

Prior to his religious and educational work he was graduated from Princeton University and from the Theological Seminary, continuing this work with graduate study at Harvard University.

THE EVERGLADES NEWS, CANAL POINT, FLORIDA

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY

by Russell Kay

A southward movement to nominate Harry F. Byrd of Virginia for President, which started in New Orleans recently, seems to be making headway in Florida as well as in other southern states.

Press dispatches during the past week tell of the forming of "Byrd for President" clubs in Miami and Jacksonville, with sizeable memberships and liberal contributions.

Senator Byrd's public record strongly appeals to the national trend toward bureaucratic collectivism and bankruptcy. He served with distinction in the State Senate of Virginia, was elected Governor at the age of 36, taking over the reins of government in the Commonwealth of Virginia with a deficit of more than $1,000,000. He immediately recognized the need of State reorganization, reducing more than 100 boards, bureaus and commissions to 12 departments, with a resultant saving in administrative expenses of more than $500,000 per annum. He reduced taxes, increased appropriations for public schools more than $1,000,000, increased the mileage of roads from 2,000 to 7,000, and retired from the Governorship leaving his successor a surplus of more than $4,000,000.

In the United States Senate, where he has served for the last 12 years, he has distinguished himself by opposing all "blank check" appropriations, the "court packing" proposal, and numerous other measures which were intended to completely change the American way of life.

His actual saving of the taxpayers of the United States hundreds of millions of dollars through his consistent fight against wastefulness and extravagance in government.

This growing group of Byrd followers apparently means business, for they are organizing throughout the South and their aim is to see that the fifth Southern delegations shall be instructed to vote and (after customary favorite son ballot) keep on voting for Harry F. Byrd for President in the forthcoming Democratic National Convention.

There is more political unrest in the South today than there has been for a long time and its solidarity in the coming national election is far from certain. Kennedy gave recent evidence of that.

Just what reaction a fourth term movement would receive in this state is a matter of conjecture, but all indications seem to point to plenty of opportunity for the administration, is concerned, regardless of whom we elect President, and our hope for the future as far as home problems are concerned rests more in the character of our lawmakers than in the administration.

In the meantime, while we chew our cud and try to determine what's best, it's not forget that we can at least agree on the Celebration of the President's Birthday by supporting the worthwhile humanitarian effort in the fight against infantile paralysis.

While satisfaction concerning the conduct of the war appears to be general and there is little complaint with regard to our foreign policy, the front-line workers generally are a bit tired and fatigued. The job is a bitter pill that is becoming increasingly hard to swallow.

With this nation facing the greatest crisis in its history, it is indeed unfortunate that bitter times must be injected at this time. If these were just some way we could forget all political activities and return to our front-line work, this would probably be a blessing.

Our enemies see in the coming elections their only hope of prolonging the war. They can be depended upon to make the most of anti-administration sentiments as is shown, pointing to an administration of disunity and the like as the cause of the present difficulties.

Should the President be nominated for a fourth term and meet defeat at the polls, it would undoubtedly have a very damaging effect overseas, not only because of our reaction to our enemies, but our allies as well.

Unfortunately, the President.

CINEMATIC CHATTER.....

By MALCOLM MILLAR—

What The Movies Have to Offer During The Coming Week

Since James Cagney made story of a newcomer in town, who "Yankee Doodle Dandy," we find makes a success. This particular week, however, is the "comes" of young blonde, who I believe in his mind he is a second Horace Greeley, of the famous "Go West, Young Man" type—and we know what Cagney can do with a part like that.

Some time back I read a story that fairly lifted the hair right off my head. The story was "The 7th Victim," which I found in one of those 25-centers.

With the Tuesday-Wednesday offering I see this picture is slated to be screened starring Tom Conway, Isabel Jewell and Jean Brooks, and, if they have produced it with all the showmanship the author exhibited in his book I'll say this will be a hit.

Story is about a beautiful young girl, who you might term a satellite of Satan. She flies from the subtle vengeance of a Devil worshiper who has caused her death by the power of fear.

Thursday-Friday brings two new comers to the Prince screen in "Adventures of a Rookie." Hollywood claims these two flimflams, Wally Brown and Alan Carney, are on their way toward being America's favorite hokum team. One can be said in their behalf, that they are very good, with seems to allow them every opportunity to display whatever talents they may possess, so well be looking forward to the evening with Brown and Carney in their "Adventures of a Rookie."

I see Wild Bill Elliott and Tex Ritter are to be with us again this coming Saturday, which should be welcome news to the members of the Six Shooters Club.

In closing let me say, I am very pleased to see what the new Bond Drive is going for the theater. Response has been healthy and I still feel we have a chance to win. However time is drawing short, and I would like to meet one of those Washington W.C.'s, and it looks like I'll have to do this contest to do so.

At the rate whether you buy your bonds from the theater or not—DO BUY THEM—BETTER THAN WE EVER HAVE BEFORE—THIS IS THE "ALL OUT"—LET'S SICK THAT LINE!

See you at the movies—Mal.

Peru To Be Topic
At Nazarene Church

"Peru, without question, is one of the most needy mission fields in all the world," declares Rev. C. H. Wilman, Bethany, Oklahoma, former president of the mission in South America, who is speaking at the Church of the Nazarene, Bacon Point Road, Pahokee Wednesday evening, Feb. 2nd, it was announced today by the Rev. L. S. Huff, pastor.

Rev. Wilman who served for several years as superintendent of the Peru Nazarene District, Church of the Nazarene, has an extremely remarkable mode of transportation in promoting his church work. Often, he has pitched camp high in the Andes Mountains, surrounded by some of the most savage Indian tribes; and other assignments took him by plane into the heart of the capital city of Lima for conferences with world leaders of state.

Rev. C. A. Moberg, scoutmaster of Pahokee Boy Scout Troop 23, organized the local scrap paper drive to members of the Pahokee Lions Club at the Tuesday luncheon meeting. He asked the full cooperation of all home owners by their having the paper properly sorted and placed in front of the Scouts when they make their rounds each Saturday, saying that under present conditions the Scouts were spending more time sorting and bundling the paper than they were collecting it. Newspapers should be folded once and tied in bundles approximately 12 x 18 inches. Boxes and other boxes and similar material should be flattened and tied also in separate bundles, he explained. Have the scrap paper ready and placed in a convenient location for the Scouts when they call and thus contribute to the success of the drive, he urged.

President C. A. Belk and Leon Spitzer were welcomed and welcomed as new members of the club. President G. M. Belk appointed Rupert Mock, W. E. Pope, Broke Bateman and C. G. Johnson on a committee to study preliminary plans for establishing a local airport.

Rev. Ralph Johnson, evangelist

to be screened starring Tom Conway, Isabel Jewell and Jean Brooks, and, if they have produced it with all the showmanship the author exhibited in his book I'll say this will be a hit.

Jack is head-over-heels! He has met the one—the only—the most beautiful girl on earth. And when he isn't talking to her so face-to-face, he's using the telephone to express his sentiments at length.

Yes, Jack, loves a grand feeling line, none of your telephone neighbors can talk while you are courting. A 200-foot line also helps cause congestion in the central office. It puts an added load on equipment that's already working at capacity. This equipment can't be expanded to handle all demands, for telephone material is going to battle instead.

So please, Jack, help keep the lines clear—for your party line, and the people handling vital business.

Call the office, go to the local telephone company, and if you can, a home-made exemption application be accepted.
